NEW AGRICULTURAL SETTLEMENT.

TO ALL WANTING FARMS,

A RARE OPPORTUNITY IN A DELIGHTFUL AND HEALTHY CLIMATE 25 MILES SOUTH-EAST OF PHILADELPHIA, ON THE CAMDEN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD, NEW JERSEY.

An old estate consisting of several thousand of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre, the soil of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land,, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vinyards and peach orchards, planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a pesirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,

as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION,

Products bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price in the West. It is known that the ehrliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand.— He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place; good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages here presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will sell land under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, THE RAILROAD COMPANY GIVES A FREE TICKET FOR SIX MONTHS AND A HALF-PRICE TICKET FOR THREE YEARS.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Foundries for casting small articles. The improvement has ibeen so rapid as to insure a constant and permanee ncrease of business Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would affect the improvement of theplace can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land: leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton by Railroad, 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia. Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

INDIAN SUMMER.

There is a time just when the frost
Prepares to pave old Winter's way,
When Autumn, in a reverie lost,
The mellow daytime dreams away;
When Summer comes, in musing mind,
To gaze once more on hill and dell,
To mark how many sheaves they bind,
And see if all are ripened well.

With balmy breath she whispers low;
The dying flowers look up and give
Their sweetest incense ere they go,
For her who made their beauties live.
She enters 'neath the woodland's shade,
Her zephyrs lift the lingering sheaf,
And bear it gently where are laid
The loved and lost ones of its grief.

At last old Autumn rising, takes
Again his sceptre and his throne,
With boisterous hand the tree he shakes
Intent on gathering all his own.
Sweet Summer sighing, flies the plain,
And waiting Winter gaunt and grim,
Sees miser Autumn hoard his grain,
And smiles to think it's all for him.

"SARATOGA SOCIETY."

Saratoga society—
What endless variety!
What pinks of propriety!
What gems of—sobriety!
What garrulous old folks,
And warm folks, and cold folks!
Such curious dressing,
And tender caressing,
(Of course that is guessing!)
Such sharp Yankee Doodles,
And dandified noodles,
And other pet poodles,
Such very loud patterns,
(Worn often by slatterns,)
Such hoops—big as Saturn's!
Such straight necks, and bow necks,
Such dark necks, and snow necks,
And high necks, and low necks!
With this sort, and that sort—
The lean sort and fat sort,
The bright and the flat sort!
Saratoga is crammed full,
And rammed full and jammed full!

A Fast Woman and her Victims.

The public has heard of the numerous chapters no less startling than interesting, in the history of fast young men, who, yielding to temptation in an evil and unguarded hour, have rushed headlong to ruin; but here is a history which eclipses them all—an account of an extraordinarily clever and brilliant "fast" woman, whose power of fascinating and beggaring men has been wonderful. We copy from the Paris correspondent of the Courier des etats Unis:

"Among the young spendthrifts noticed in the journals of the day, is the name of a Prussian prince, count or Baron Enshel, who has eaten up, in less than four years, a fortune of more than six million francs, all for the sweet eyes of a woman well known in Paris as the Marchioness of Pavia. The history of this woman is curious. She was observed in Russia, where she was born of Jewish parents, by a great pianist who conceived for her a passion justified by her beauty, and above all, by her knowledge and intelligence. She spoke seven languages perfectly. The pianist brought her with him to Paris, where he had the weakness to present her as a legitimate wife in society, and even at a court ball. At this ball she made such an impression on one of the princes of the Orleans family, that she attracted him to the home of the man whose name she bore.

Borne down by his excessive expenses, the artist quitted France for a time to mend his fortunes abroad. His companion, left at home, during his absence, quitted it one fine morning, to follow Lord Ward, known in London by his conquests of this kind. This nobleman did not retain her long—he economized too much of the wealth of which she was greedy. Returned to Paris in quest of a new position, which was the height of her ambition, she encountered the young Marquis of Pavia, brother to the Portuguese Embassador, whom she so fascinated that he espoused her legally and religiously, promising her a million francs in case they should separate on incompatibility of temper. This eventually was not long in coming. The new Marchioness could not consent to live in the heart of Portugal, whither her husband had taken her, so after making useless efforts to retain her, he counted out the million and let her go. At the end of the year the million had vanished, so that the Marchioness was obliged to sell furniture, horses and carriages, and to take refuge in furnished lodgings, where she spent her last cent. She had not the wherewithal to pay for a dinner, when she met a friend to whom she told her condition, and who offered her a meal at the Restaurant Ledoyen, in the Champs Elysees. In the conversation at dinner she told him that here she would be a millionaire or drowned; that this was her unchangeable resolution, and the vision of her slumber. While saying this she held in her hand a journal, and her eyes rested on an extract from a Prussian Gazette, relative to the decease of a Prussian personage, who left a fortune of ten or twelve millions to his two young unmarried nephews. She read this several times, became thoughtful, and four days afterward she left for Prussia, with a thousand francs borrowed from her acquaintances. She was presented afterwards, I know not how, to the eldest of the heirs; but he was a species of Nimrod huntsman who had no passion but the chase. She addressed herself to the cadet of the family. He, just coming from school, was of a nature sweet and sensitive as that of his brother was rude. He was an easy prey, and hardly had the adroit huntress caught him in her toils, than the death of his brother doubled his fortune. He followed his tempter to Paris, and surrendered himself to her with such abandonment, that I have heard that man, endowed nobly in body and mind, who knew all the antecedents of her who had seduced him, express his regret that she was not a widow, so that he could bestow upon her his name, as he had his fortune. He was hardly twenty-eight years old, while she was over forty! He covered her with the rarest diamonds and pearls that could be found. He bought her a country seat near Paris, which is a princely chateau. She gave every week splendid dinners, but she had for guests only men, and this tormented her. Her ambition, when all else was satisfied, was to attract to her, by her splendid style of life, women who were not of the demi monde. This impossible thing caused her to blush amid her opulence. Hoping to triumph over this obstacle, by softening the conscience of the public, she commenced to build in the great avenue of the Champs Elysees, a mansion which would be a wonder. The stair case is entirely of onyx, and the dining of malachite. But the work has been suspended after an expense of two or three million of francs. The poor rich man has come to the end of his millions after reaching that of his illusions!

Water Spout on the Prairie.

Terrible Destruction of Life and property.

The New York Tribune, dated May the 25th, gives the following particulars of a severe tornado at Iowa City:

Last evening, while yet it was light, there arose suddenly a violent wind, accompanied by strong indications of rain. In a few moments the whole horizon became pitchy black, and the most vivid lightning darted athwart the sky. A terrible thunder storm burst upon us.—While yet it was raging fearfully the sky suddenly appeared unclouded in the east for a space several inches in width. Many of our citizens discovered, indistinctly at first, the rapid approach of an immense water spout. The phenomenon was so unusual that the attention of hundreds was drawn, to it. The appearance of the huge volume of water as it reached from earth to sky—waving to and fro like a rope hung in the wind—was exceedingly grand. The water-spout remained in sight nearly fifteen minutes, when the sky becoming obscured, it was lost sight of.

Scarcely an hour elapsed before news was brought that Jesse Berry, a member of our common council, had been killed in a barn, which was thrown down by the violence of the wind and water. The next express from the country brought us information that a family by the name of Morgan, three in number, had been struck—two of its members killed instantly, and the mother so seriously injured that it is thought impossible for her to recover. Two men, whose names we could not learn, were killed instantly. Many have had their legs or arms broken, and others have suffered from contusion and fractures, occasioned by the fall of houses which had been blown down upon them.

The water-spout seems to have been from thirty to forty feet in diameter, and to have destroyed a large amout of property. Its extent was from seven to ten miles, and it is said to have traveled with great rapidity. In one instance a barn of Mr. Berry's was taken from its foundation, carried some three hundred yards, thrown down and crushed into a thousand fragments. A child of Mr. Walsh was taken up and carried nearly five hundred yards, thrown into a slough, but, strange to say, escaped with its life. The spout appeared like an immense funnel, and it seemed very near, for the whirl and sparkle of the water could be plainly seen.

On the same day a similar tornado passed over a portion of Illinois. A dispatch from Jacksonville, says:

As far as heard from, it began in Calhoun county, carrying everything, men, houses, barns, fences, trees and cattle with it, from Manchester to a distance of twelve miles, directly north-east. We can count thirty-six dwelling houses, with all the barns and outhouses destroyed. The number of killed, as far as heard from, are Mrs. Route, a son of Geo. Van Zanes, Samuel Brown, a Portuguese in the employ of Mr. Route, Jonathan Carlisle, Jacob Sample and wife, and Mr. Thomas. There are about fifty seriously, if not mortally wounded. Most of them, it is feared, must die.

To give an idea of the force of the storm, I have in my possession a stone weighing three pounds that was lifted up and carried sixty feet, passing through a window four feet from the floor. The floor and partition of a school room, twenty by thirty feet, was carried away, with heavy timber, and all cannot be found within two miles of the place. A wind mill was carried over four hundred yards, with pipes, pumps, &c., the small end foremost. There is not ten feet square within the route of the storm that has not rails, boards, &c., stuck in the ground, so that no one can easily pull them out. Whole partitions of houses are gone and cannot be found. A man riding in a field was blown from his horse, the saddle torn off and carried about two miles from the place.

No one can form an idea of the terrible effects of this storm, which lasted but five minutes, with but little rain. The cloud was very bright, while on either side it was so dark as not to be able to distinguish objects.

Democracy.

Is there, says a cotemporary, a word in our language that has the ring of our noble watchword, Democracy? It touches at once every chord of our being, because in itself it comprises all the best men have dreamed, all the greatest sages have thought, all that the highest flights of human reason have reached. It epitomizes all the results of the painful labors of mankind from the rude attempts of savage ignorance to the beautiful fabric of civilization. It is like a brilliant pinnacle perched on a high rugged hill, up which struggling millions have toiled and are still toiling. Democracy—the rights of the people! Not the rights of individuals; not the rights of class, or section, but the rights of all including each. Nothing selfish, partial, limited, but the full recognition of one's claim, the unfettered development of each one's faculties, the unrestricted enjoyment of each one's rights. This is Democracy. Is it wonderful that its trumpet sounds wake mankind from the sleep of lethargy, that at its echoes the ramparts of prejudice, the strong fastnesses of tyranny and fanaticism are shaken, down, totter and fall. Was so potent a name ever inscribed on any banner, a name that in itself betokens victory? The party that owns this banner, must be national, it will be universal. It is born from no local passion, from no selfish interest, from no personal prejudice, from no transient expedient or passing cause, its vital spark is an eternal truth. It claims nothing at the expense of others, it stands upon the immutable foundation of truth and justice. Even those that oppose it are loath to sunder every bond. Those that leave it repent and return. Democracy is the pride of our land; it is that which makes it the shining beacon to mankind, the star of hope to present and future generations. Not our shipping that dots every sea, not our fertile, boundless lands, not our inventions and gigantic strides, make us the wonder of the world. These are but the offspring, the practical manifestation of the great principle embodied in our party name—the rights of the people, the rights of all. Can the most prolific brain invent a just cause that is not embraced in its protecting arms? Is there a wrong against which it has no weapons.—The noble tree, which grows only in the richest soil, the young roots of which are fed with the blood of patriot men, that noble tree extends its sheltering branches over everything that is good and just, but wrong and error cannot live within its realm. The party which watched over the birth of this nation, which sat by its cradle, which reared it to youthful manhood, that party shall be its guardian angel so long as Providence has decreed to prolong its days. Let no rash imaginings, no impatient ardor, seduce the unwary from a brotherhood which has ever been faithful to its trust. Let no one rashly condemn when the results have been so grand, and abandon the bright lights of the past for the fitful will-o-the-wisp of the present.

☞Mrs. Partington says that Louis Napoleon has succeeded beyond her most sanguinary expectorations.

The skull of Richelieu.

It seems probable that a very curious and interesting affair will soon be brought before the courts. It is known that the famous Cardinal Richelieu was buried in the chapel of the Sarbonne, where his tomb is still to be seen.—During the days of terror the infuriated mob tore open the Cardinal's grave, in common with thousands of others, dragged forth the remains, separated the head from the body, and carried it through the streets stuck on a pike. This head subsequently fell into the possession of a deputy of those days, who bequeathed it to his son. The latter, of course, attaches a high value to the prize, obstinately refusing to give it up to the State, which claims that the skull of the illustrious minister of Louis XIII, should be placed among the public relics of the empire.

It was at first attempted to settle the controversy without appealing to the tribunals, but, as the present possessor of the Cardinal's head is determined not to give it up without being absolutely forced to do so, it is said the authorities are about bringing suit against him to compel its restoration; and there seems very little doubt that he will lose his cherished head, at last. When Richelieu ruled France, and the weak king, his nominal master, with a rod of iron, holding the lives and fortunes of the most powerful in the hollow of his hand, little did he dream that the day would come when his skull would be carried through Paris on a pike, treasured by a city deputy, and reclaimed by Government to be placed under a glass case, perhaps in the museum of the Louvre, or the Hotel de Clurry.—Correspondent of Penna. Inquirer.

A new Marseillaise.

In describing the great celebration in Paris, "Malakoff," of the New York Times, says:

"As one of the regimental bands came to take its station on the Place Vendome in front of us, while its regiment filed past, it played the new Italian Marseillaise, or rather Milanaise, which annoyed the Austrians so much, and which they prohibited in their Italian provinces. It was the first air I heard on arriving in Italy, and the last one on leaving; the Italians ate, drank, went to bed, got up, marched and fought their enemies, in unison with its notes; I did the same (all but the fighting) myself. It is one of those glorious airs which raise a man's hair to the perpendicular and set his nerves in a tremor. It utters the plaintive cry of the Italians struggling for liberty, it calls them from their firesides, and clusters them under the flag of independence; it leads them to the midst of roaring cannon and flashing steel; hushes to sleep the dying warriors on the field of battle, and then sounds aloud the note of victory. I was always afraid when I heard this piece of exciting music that some one might come along and banter me to join Garibaldi! The world owes Italy her independence, if for nothing else than glorious music.

Pat.—"I say, Mr. Postoffice, is there a litter for me."

P. M.—"Who are you, my good sir?"

Pat.—"It's meself, that's who I am."

P. M.—"Well, what's your name?"

Pat.—"An' what do ye want wid the name? isn't it on the litter?"

P. M.—"So that I can find the letter if there is one."

Pat.—"Well, Mary Burns, thin, if ye must have it."

P. M.—"No sir—there is none for Mary Burns."

Pat.—"Is there no way to git in there but through this pane of glass?"

P. M.—No Sir."

Pat—"It's well for ye there isn't—I'd tache ye bitter manners than to insist on a gintlemin's name: but ye didn't git it after all—so I'm aven wid ye, divil the bit is my name Burns!"

Greasing the wagon tire.

A good many years ago I hired a "green hand" just "come over" to work on the farm, and I had a good deal of fun that Summer, even if he did not turn out very profitable at first, though he was a good faithful fellow, and after a long schooling became first-rate help. One morning I wanted to go to market before daylight, and I told Patrick to be sure and grease the wagon wheels well over night. Morning came and I started off, Patrick having assured me the wheels were well greased; but when I had traveled about ten miles, I had for my amusement the hardest kind of music you ever heard, sque—e—e—k, sque—e—e—k it went, until I wished Pat had been there, so that I could have taken grease enough out of him to stop the miserable noise. When I got home, of course I called him to a pretty sharp account. "Sure and I grased 'em all, round and round," said he, "and ye can see for your own eyes, where I spilted some of it on the woodens." True enough, he had given all the tires thorough oiling, as the marks on the felloes, or "woodens," as he called them, plainly showed. I couldn't scold for laughing, and I've laughed a good many times since when I've been put in mind of it by seeing a man waste his work by putting it in the wrong place.

There was my neighbor, who had the hardest looking lot of stock I ever saw, and they were just as hard as they looked, for they'd scale fences like so many cats. He used to keep two dogs and spend half his time in chasing his critters out of the corn and grain fields, when they only wanted something to eat, and it would have puzzled a grasshopper to provide for a family in his pastures. Whenever I saw him puffing, and sweating, and tearing around like mad after his cattle, instead of fixing his fences, I laughed and said, "His labor and expense are all in the wrong place, he's greasing the wagon tire."

Another man I new who used to work night and day to make money, but his farm kept running down every year. He would go to market at least three times a week, selling everything that grew on the place, from huckleberries up to sawlogs, and I couldn't see as he spent anything, for he and his wife always looked like distress, but he just managed to keep up his interest, and that was all. His land was only skinned, and his manure lay around loose in the only barn yard he had—the public road. And when I saw him week after week going to town with a load of some truck to peddle out, thinks I, he's "greasing his wagon tire."

When I've seen men walloping their boys for swearing and cutting up, and then letting them run around nights to the village tavern, or wherever they pleased, without calling them to account, although I felt sad, I had to laugh, for they put me so much in mind of "greasing the wagon tire."

I've seen mechanics and merchants do the same thing when they took their capital out of a safe buisness to go to speculating, and even the women have "greased the wagon tire" by bringing up their daughters to be ladies, by letting them sit reading novels in the parlor while they themselves slaved away in the kitchen.

I don't love to think about funny things in church, but when I've heard the parson preaching just to please the people, oiling them down with good smooth pleasant talk, I've had hard work to keep from smiling out loud, thinking about "greasing the wagon tire." JONATHEN.

Transplanting Fruit Trees.

Planting fruit trees, like planting anything else in the ground, designed to grow well, must be done right; and no labor can be more judiciously spent, than in planitng a fruit tree well. In the first place, get good, sound trees, and if the top is full of branches, or large, and the roots are small, it is necessary to trim down the top to suit the size and buantity of roots. This the person planting must be the judge of. All roots that are bruised or injured in taking up, must be cut off smooth. The longer and larger the roots the better. In the next place, make the holes for trees large, not less than from four to six feet in diameter, and at least two feet deep—the more depth the better. Fill up the holes with any good soil to within fifteen inches of the top—set the tree in the hole the same way it first grew—fill up all the spaces around the roots with good fine earth, and cover over all the roots three or four inches thick with good rich soil, which press down lightly with the foot, except around the trunk of the tree, where a half bucket of water poured around will have the effect of causing all the vacancies around the trunk and roots under it to fill up. Place a stake or stick in the hole where there are no roots near; or what would be much better, a post of locust, of proper size and height—to fasten the tree to for four or five years, to keep it from swinging about by the wind, then fill up the whole to within four or five inches of the top, and put a layer of any kind of manure, straw, weeds, &c., two or three inches thick, and then fill the hole full of earth, and tramp it moderately tight. The trees ought to be planted from nine to fifteen inches in depth, according to size and former depth of growth. Many good trees are ruined by the storms, cattle, &c., for want of good stakes or posts to prevent their bending down, and shaking loose at roots, &c. These prescriptions are intended for apple trees, and all others can be planted in the same way, except as regards distance. Apple trees, in a new orchard, should be planted from thirty to forty feet apart, according to size or kinds of trees smaller size nearer in proportion. Fall planting is the surest season, affording more leisure to plant properly, &c., and can be done from the middle of October until the ground freezes.—Patriot & Union

THE ELECTION IN BALTIMORE.

Intimidation of voters by Know Nothing rowdies.

THE OLD GAME OF FRAUD AND VILLANY.

The Council election held in Baltimore, on the 12th inst., was characterized by the usual fraud and villany practised at elections by the Know Nothing rowdies and bullies of that thrice disgraced city. However, owing to the noble stand made by the law-abiding and order-loving portion of the community, the schemes of these political desperadoes were partially frustrated. The Know Nothings elected 12 of the councilmen and the "Reformers" 7. Last year the entire council was in the hands of the Know Nothing shoulder-hitters. The majority for the K. N.'s in the city, is only 1,325. Last year their nominee for Mayor, was elected by a majority of 17,998, showing a K. N. loss, in one year, of 16,673 votes. Had not fraud and violence been used by the K. N.'s, and had not naturalized citizens been almost entirely excluded from the polls, the "Reformers" would have carried the city. We compile, from the Baltimore Republican, an account of the scenes at some of the polls:

FIRST WARD.

We arrived at the first ward polls about 10½ o'clock, and remained there some 20 minutes. During our stay there, there was no actual fight, but we witnessed the attempt of several gentlemen (with reform tickets) to reach the ticket window, but were unable to accomplish their purpose, and retired without casting their votes.

The "Blood Tubs" had complete possession of the window, and the plan carried out and the system used, was this: Some two or three of the most prominent of the crowd would cry out, "Come up, every one, and vote," &c., but when a reformer made the attempt, the crowding, pulling and hauling was carried to such an extent that it was useless; some of the most persevering, however, succeeded in voting.

A gentleman by the name of John T. Kirby, was attacked, and, as a matter of course, defended himself. He was arrested, taken before Justice Audoun, and made to give security for his appearance at court, while the other party was not arrested at all. We hope every man in the First Ward will go up, and try to vote, if they are not successful, why then show the public the facts.

FIFTH WARD.

In the early part of the day at these polls the window was kept clear, but at one o'clock the window was in the entire possession of the "Rose Buds," some of whom were arrested, and the same "game" of frauds was here being enacted.

SIXTH WARD.

The difficulty in this ward commenced about 12 o'clock, by the stabbing of a German named Fischer, and at the time we write, the polls are in possession of the Ashland club, and the orders of the mayor are totally disregarded.

SEVENTH WARD.

Here there were the same proceedings as at the rest of the polls, and no naturalized citizen could vote.

TENTH WARD.

At the opening of the polls there was a seeming disposition to have fair play, but the "Regulators" finding that the "thing" was rather against their man, resolved to "go in." The judges in this ward are not doing their duty. The naturalization papers of several parties, who attempted to vote, were jerked out of their hands, and in the presence of the judges, torn up.

One of the parties was a Mr. Haggerty, and positively asserts that Erasmus Levy was the party who took his papers from him. The plan of "pin sticking," "cow-itching," &c., was commenced about 11 o'clock, and proved to be quite successful.

Levy was arrested several times, but was out of the station house as soon as the officer who arrested him. Sergt. M'Comos, who has charge of this ward, was doing his duty like a man, but he is not assisted by the other officers, and he was told, that if he did not stop making himself so officious, he would be discharged, to which he replied, "I will do my duty."

Several gentlemen, among them Wm. Geo. Brown, Esq., called upon the Mayor, and acquainted him with the lawlessness, violence &c., which was being perpetrated in this once quiet and peaceable ward, and he visited the polls twice, but his visits seemed to have no effect.

TWELFTH WARD.

Shortly after the polls were opened in this ward a slight disturbance arose from the crowding and pushing of some parties who endeavored to prevent naturalized voters from reaching the window. The ringleaders were promptly arrested by the officers, who are in charge of Lieut Boswell, and the voting proceeded freely and quietly.

FIFTEENTH WARD.

Although no serious disturbance has so far occurred in this ward, there is but little voting, the "Roughs" having already so far intimidated quiet voters that they make but little effort to get to the window. Much complaint is made against the police in this ward, who are in charge of Capt. Woods. About 10 o'clock a committee of citizens proceeded to the City Hall to lay a complaint before the Mayor as to the course pursued by the officers.

TWENTIETH WARD.

A committee waited upon the Mayor, at 1½ o'clock, and informed him that this ward had been forcibly taken possession of by the "Plug Ugly" club," and that the officers would not do their duty. He gave them no satisfaction. The ballot-box at this poll, was smashed by the "Plug Uglies." The poll-bok was saved by the clerk, from which it was ascertained that 1086 votes were polled altogether, of which 821 had been counted, which showed for Norris 457, and for Placide 364, showing a majority of 93 for the reform candidate so far. Mr. Norris had undoubtedly received a majority approximating 150 votes, and this fact induced the K. N. rowdies to destroy the ballot-box.

NEGRO INSURRECTION.—On Monday last, the startling intelligence of a slave insurrection at Harper's Ferry, was received by telegraph. We will give the particulars next week.

☞Democrats in Roman, Opposition in Italics.
*Elected without opposition.

THE LATE ELECTION.

The result of the late election, teaches us an important lesson, viz: that if we desire to be victorious, we must be harmonious. A house divided against itself, cannot stand. Democrats must seek to harmonize the party from this day forward, for harmony and unanimity alone can give us success. There is no doubt that if our party had been united at the polls, on Tuesday week, the Democratic State Ticket would have been successful by at least 10,000 majority. We say, therefore, let the watchword henceforth be, A United Democracy. What boots it to quarrel about men, or even to wrangle about differences of opinion concerning principle, if the strength of the organization is sapped and we are left powerless to sustain any man, or to assert successfully any of the principles of our creed? We say in all earnestness and sincerity, let bygones be bygones, "let the dead past bury its dead," and let Democrat meet Democrat as a political brother from whom he has been uselessly and needlessly estranged. The Democratic press throughout the State, wields much power for good, or evil, to the party. It should be the aim of that press to restore to the party the unanimity and good feeling which were wont to characterize the Democracy. Let us use moderation and conciliation toward those who have gone astray; let us treat them generously and in the spirit of reconciliation, and if they do not choose to accept the olive branch, we, at least, shall have done our duty.

We have already partly retrieved our losses in this State at last fall's election. We have made heavy gains in a number of counties. In Philadelphia our gain is nearly 4000 over last year. In Montgomery our gain is 700 or 800. In Northampton, Monroe, Lehigh, Carbon, Luzerne, Northumberland, Clinton, Lycoming, Columbia, Montour and other counties, our gains are considerable. Berks, which last year elected Keim, Opposition, to Congress, this year gives the Democratic State Ticket 1200 majority. In short, a healthy reaction has taken place in many counties, and if we but go into the Presidential campaign united and harmonious, Pennsylvania will be redeemed to the Democracy. Let us learn from the past.

THE PROBABLE MAJORITY.

The returns of the late election, come in very slowly. In 23 counties the official vote shows a Democratic gain of about 8000 over last year. The Opposition majority, thus far, is only 8500. Some of the Opposition newspapers claim the State by only 10,000. Before the election the Bedford Abolition organ announced that the Opposition would carry the State by 30,000, or 40,000. "What a fall was there, my countrymen!" Our opinion is that the Opposition majority will be 12,000, or 15,000. From the returns before us, the indications are that we have gained from 12,000 to 15,000, over last year's vote, when we were beaten nearly 27,000. Another fire like this, from the Democratic battery, and Pennsylvania is ours. The Opposition are even now in the dumps about their victory (?). The N. Y. Tribune is terribly out of humor about it, and scolds its political friends in Pennsylvania for not doing better. The Tribune sees that its party has lost ground in this State, and looks to the future with well-founded apprehension. Wait till 1860!

BATES AND AFRICA.

Among the Democrats elected to the Legislature, it gives us great pleasure to recognise such men as GEO. BATES, of Mifflin, and J. S. AFRICA, of Huntingdon. They are both gentlemen of great worth, and Democrats in whom there is no guile. They have been elected in districts which were represented, last year, by Opposition members, and which our opponents expected confidently to carry again. With such men as Bates and Africa in the Legislature, we have no fear that the Opposition majority will not be properly watched.

☞Gen. Coffroth has a majority in Somerset borough and Somerset township, of 81 over Williams. In the same district the Opposition State Ticket has a majority of 190. We call that some "running." Mr. Gump beats Mr. Williams 14 in Somerset borough, the Opposition State Ticket having a majority of 36.

DEMOCRATIC GAINS.—We have gained 16 in Bedford township, 7 in Colerain, 20 in Cumberland Valley, 20 in Harrison, 30 in Hopewell, 1 in Liberty, 1 in Londonderry, 1 in Napier, 1 in Bedford bor., and 24 in South Woodberry, over last year's vote.

Local and Miscellaneous.

—On Saturday last, a hay-mow containing some twenty-five tons of hay, belonging to Mr. W. Chenoweth, of Bedford township, was consumed by fire. It is supposed that the fire was communicated from a bake-oven near by. Mr. Chenoweth's stables, situated close to the mow, were fired several times whilst the hay was burning, but, by good management, were saved without much injury. Mr. C.'s loss is estimated at between $300 and $400.

—The steamship North Briton brings the melancholy intelligence of the death of Hon. John Y. Mason, American Minister at the Court of France. He died on the 3d inst., of apoplexy. Mr. Mason was Secretary of the Navy under President Tyler and also occupied a seat in the cabinet of President Polk, first as Attorney General, and afterwards as the head of the Navy Department. He was appointed Minister to France, by President Pierce, in 1853.

—Our merchants have received their fall and winter goods, and are now prepared to sell any thing, from a jack-knife to a lady's silk gown. Their motto is, "Cheap for cash, or country produce," so bring on your dimes and your grain, and gladden the hearts of the knights of the yard-stick. See sundry advertisements of new goods in another column.

—We have received several numbers of the Mining Record and Pottsville Emporium, published at Pottsville, Schuylkill county, by W. B. Sipes, Esq. The Record is neatly printed and its editorial columns evince more than ordinary ability. We hope Mr. Sipes will not only succeed in making a fortune out of the Record, but that he will be able to restore Schuylkill to the list of Democratic counties. As long as Cake was editor of the Record, the Democracy's bread was all dough in Schuylkill.

—Gen. John Calhoun, President of the famous Lecompton Constitutional Convention, died at St. Josephs, Mo., on the 13th inst.—Thus two of the distinguished characters connected with the Lecompton controversy, (one on either side) have passed from earth. Calhoun and Broderick are numbered with the dead.

—We announced some time ago, that Dr. Hickok's Address delivered before the Odd Fellows of this place, at their last celebration, had been published in pamphlet form and was for sale at Dr. Harry's. Since then we have had the pleasure of perusing it, and we must say that we found it to be an interesting and entertaining as well as able and refined production. We advise all our readers to buy a copy.

—The Photographs painted by Mr. G. Vallade, of Paris, who has been staying in our town for some time past, are truly beautiful and artistic. We have seen photographic paintings by a number of our best artists, but none that excelled in delicacy of coloring and fineness of shading the ivory-types and water-colors of Mr. Vallade. Should any one doubt our representations, our statement will be fully corroborated by the specimens of Mr. Vallade's skill to be seen at the Ambrotype Gallery of Mr. Gettys. Call and see them.

—The Democracy have carried Bedford county five times in succession, electing every candidate nominated by the party, with a single exception. The Democratic majority on the State Ticket, this year, is 141, just 26 more than Mr. Reilly's last fall, and 20 more than at the October election in 1856. Old Bedford is always right.

THE VOTE FOR LEGISLATURE.

The following is the official vote for members of the Legislature, in this district.

	Somerset.	Bedford.
Coffroth, D.,	1446	2134.
Gump, D.,	1146	2108.
Walker, O.,	2225	2002.
Williams, O.,	2054	2024.

Walker's majority over Coffroth, 647; Williams over Coffroth, 468; Walker over Gump, 973; Williams over Gump, 824. The Democratic vote in Somerset county is 600 less than last fall. Had the Democrats polled the same vote they did last year, Coffroth would have beaten Williams over 100 votes. Williams runs 149 behind Walker and 127 behind the Opposition State Ticket. So much for Amalgamation.

LOST—A few days since, on Pitt st., Bedford, a cross-shaped breast-pin, with pearl setting. The finder will receive a reward of $1.00 by leaving it at this office.

THE RESULT AND THE FUTURE.

The Democratic party of Pennsylvania have a second time sustained a thorough defeat. Of the causes which led to this calamity, we have no disposition to speculate. It is sufficient to know that apathy and disaffection kept enough Democrats from the polls to insure a complete Opposition triumph. When the vote comes to be summed up, it will be discovered that it was unusually small, and that the defection was principally from the Democratic side. The Opposition, thoroughly united and elated by last year's success, entered the contest well drilled and confident; while the Democracy had more cause for depressing fear than for sanguine hope. While we sometimes hoped that the spirit displayed in some quarters, and the evident reactionary movement in our ranks, would result in the success of the Democratic party, and endeavored to infuse this hope into others, we were still prepared to hear of a defeat. Now that it has come, we do not feel like indulging in vain crimination or unmanly laments: but rather, fixing our eyes steadily upon the momentous future, like brushing away the rubbish of the past, and entering upon the great presidential contest with fresh vigor and spirit. From this day forward let victory be the watch-word of the Democratic party, and everything cosistent with sound principles to attain it.

Every careful observer of the current of politics has noted the rapid and alarming advance of the sectional Republican party. A few years ago it was inferior and subordinate in the Oppositino ranks to the Americans and conservatives; but, by quick steps, it has at last gained the complete mastery. The American party has been entirely absorbed by its more powreful ally. By the loving embrace of union, the Republican party has made the former members of the American organization so completely and entirely a part of itself, that separation would be impossible, even if the few remaining American leaders desired it. The strength of the Opposition in the late contest was mainly furnished by the R publican element, and the victory is a Republican victory. Already do we hear exultant announcements from Republicans that the triumph belongs to them; and before long we may expect to witness a general movement throughout the North in behalf of the nomination of Mr. SEWARD for the Presidency. We have anticipated that as soon as the Republicans felt that SEWARD was strong enough to stand a canvass, with hopes of success, they would insist upon his nomination. Now that Pennsylvania and Ohio have both been carried by the Republican party, it will be received as an indication by his admirers that SEWARD could be elected; and as his nomination only waits for this prospect, it may be expected to follow.

In view of the terrible struggle that would succeed the nomination of the "irrepressible conflict" champion, and the fatal consequences following his success, it becomes the duty of the Democratic party to make every exertion and preparation to secure his defeat. Laying aside all personal preferences, forgetting all past dissensions, burying all distracting animosities, it becomes the duty of the Democratic party to fight as one man, to secure the defeat of the sectional Republicans; and to this end, the candidate nominated at Charleston should be the man best calculated to unite the party and carry the strongest vote. Individual feelings must give way to this controlling object. What man can be elected and maintain Democratic principles? should be the main inquiry, and will.

We do not believe that Pennsylvania, conservative as she always has been, is yet prepared to indorse the wild Abolitionism of the Republican politicians, or that she will give her voice and influence to elevate one of this class to the Presidency. When the issue is distinctly made between a sectional Republican candidate upon the "irrepressible conflict" platform and a national Democrat, all difficulties and distinctions among members of the Democratic party will vanish, and thousands of conservative citizens, who love harmony and dread the elevation of a sectional President, will contribute by their votes and influence to the elevation of a national man and the overthrow of the disturbers of our national peace and prosperity.—Patriot & Union.

A Very Reverend Politician.

The Republicans of the Bradford and Susquehanna district made a very appropriate selection in the nomination of the Rev. GEORGE LANDON their candidate for Senator. We find a short biography of this gentleman in the Montrose Democrat, which marks him as more than the rival of BEECHER and PARKER. Listen to these extracts from his speeches in the campaign of 1856, and say whether he is not just the man to represent the strongest Opposition district in the State:

"August 20th, 1856, Rev George Landon addressed a mass meeting at Montrose, and made use of the following language:

"This Government out-devils anything on earth."

"Find a black statute in Russia, and I'll find a blacker one in this country."

"I wish I was as sure of the Kingdom of Heaven, as I am that Fremont will be elected President."

On the 20th of September Mr. Landon left a religious meeting at Brooklyn to attend a mass meeting at Montrose, and in the course of a speech said that "Buchanan's election would be worse than showers of hell fire and brimstone upon the country."

Some time after this, he made a speech at Meshoppen, where he said, referring to Fillmore as a candidate, that he would dispose of him by relating an anecdote of Gen. Putnam, which is as follows:

One day at table, he took a pepper into his mouth, and chewing it, said to the company, "Gentlemen, with your leave I'll put that damned thing back."

Shelton Mackenzie, with a copious index.

This Book is full of interesting and entertaining anecdotes, of the interviews of the Great Wizard with the most distinguished personages of the present day and gives descriptions of the manner of performing many of his most curious tricks and transformations. Bound in one volume, 12mo. Cloth. 445 pages.—Price $1.00.

And upon receipt of 21 cents additional for postage, a copy of the Book and a handsome present, worth from 25 cents to $100.00, will be sent to any person in the country.

[From the Editor's Preface.]

A man may not only "take his own life," by writing his Autobiography, without committing felo de se, but may carry himself into future time, by producing a book which the world will not willingly let die. This is what Mr. Robert-Houdin, the greatest artist in what is called Conjuring, has lately done in the remarkable book, Confidences d'un Prestigitateur, a faithful translation of which is here presented to the American reading public. The work has had the greatest success in Europe, from its lively style as well as the various information it contains, historical and philosophical, on the practice and principles of sleight-of-hand and the other details, mental as well as mechanical, which unite to make perfect the exhibition of White Magic, the antipodes of what our forefathers knew, persecuted, and punished as the Black Art.

[From the Westminster Review.]

"Without any sarcastic intention, we might show that the Conjurer was really a man of greater ability than many a successful author. On the whole we can recommend these Memoirs of Robert-Houdin's as pleasant reading.

LIFE AND TIMES OF COLONEL DANIEL BOONE, Comprising a History of the Early Settlement of Kentucky, with accounts of the Hardships and Adventures of the Pioneer, to which is added Col. Boone's Autobiography complete, as dictated to John Filson and first published in 1784.

"Colonel Daniel Boone was one of the most remarkable men that this country has produced. His character is marked with originality, and his actions were important and influential in one of the most interesting periods of our history—that of the early settlement of Kentucky. Boone is generally acknowledged as the founder of that State, having explored it alone to a considerable extent; leading the earliest settlers; founding Boonesborough, having defended the stations successfully against the attacks of the Indians, and the prominent part which he took in military affairs of this period of distress and peril, certainly render his claims to the honor of the title of founder of Kentucky very strong."

Handsomely bound in one volume, 12mo. cloth, and illustrated with fine engravings.—Price $1.00.

Copies of either of the above books with a handsome Gift worth from 50 cents to $100, will be sent to any person in the United States, upon receipt of $1.00, and 21 cents to pay postage, by addressing the Publisher, who is desirous of calling your attention to his honorable method of transacting business, viz:

As my prices are fixed for the two classes of customers named above, I have no prices to suit that class, whether rich or poor, who contract debts for their executors to pay, or the limitation to liquidate. So that those whose credit is not very good and who are slow in paying debts, or get mad when dunned, will please buy for CASH, or produce, or not at all—as I have lost enough and am tired dunning such customers.

THE GREAT RESTORATIVE.

FEVER AND AGUE CURED BY DR. M'LANE'S LIVER PILLS.

☞Mr. Jonathan Houghman, of West Union Park County, Illinois, writes to the proprietors Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, that he had suffered greatly from a severe and protracted attack of Fever and Ague, and was completely restored to health by the use of the Liver Pills alone. These Pills unquestionably possess great tonic properties, and can be taken with decided advantage for many diseases requiring invigorating remedies; but the Liver Pills stand pre-eminent as a means of restoring a disorganized Liver to healthy action: hence the great celebrity they have attained. The numerous formidable diseases arising from a diseased Liver, which so long baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of the United States, are now rendered easy of cure, thanks to the study and perseverance of the distinguished physician whose name this great medicine bears—a name which will descend to posterity as one deserving of gratitude. This invaluable medicine should always be kept within reach; and on the appearance of the earliest symptoms of diseased Liver, it can be safely and usefully administered.

☞Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, manufactured by FLEMING BROS., of PITTSBURGH, PA. There are other Pills purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Liver Pills, also his celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of

MEDICAL IMPOSSIBILITIES.

For a long time a certain class of diseases have baffled the skill and practice of the most eminent members of the regular medical faculty. Foremost among these we might instance epilepsy or falling fits. Happily now by the skill and inventive genius of an eminent chemist of Baltimore, Md., this disease has been brought within the means of a cure. We allude to the preparation called the VEGETABLE EXTRACT EPILEPTIC PILLS, invented and prepared by Dr. SETH S. HANCE, of 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md. Since their discovery many persons who [illegible] all hope of even being cured, have been restored to the full enjoyment of health.—Prominent among these we might enumerate Mr. HARRISON LIGHTFOOT, of Huntsville, Alabama. Mr. L., has suffered as much from Epilepsy, as any other person in the world; never knowing what it was to pass a week without having an attack, and often falling in the streets of Huntsville. He is now fully restored and has not had an attack for more than a year. Dr. Hance's Pills have been the sure cause of this cure. These pills also cure all modifications of Fits, Spasms, Cramps &c., and are very serviceable for persons of weak nerves. Dr. Hance, sends them to any part of the country on the receipt of a remittance. Price, one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $24. Address Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

IT is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with [illegible] recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

DRS. FITCH & SIKES, would state that their treatment of Consumption is based upon the fact that the disease exists in the blood and system at large, both before and during its development in the lungs, and they therefore employ Mechanical, Hygienic and Medecinal Inhalations, which they value highly, but only as Palliatives, (having no Curative effect when used alone,) and Invalids are earnestly cautioned against wasting the precious time of curability on any treatment based upon the plausible, but false idea that the "seat of the disease can be reached in a direct manner by Inhalation," for as before stated, the seat of the disease is in the blood and its effects only in the lungs.*

THE SALAMANDER SAFES OF PHILADELPHIA AGAINST THE WORLD.

Evans & Watson

Have had the surest demonstration in the following certificate that their manufacture of Salamander Safes has at length fully warranted the representations which have been made of them as rendering an undoubted security against the terrific element:

Philadelphia, April 12th, 1856.

MESSRS. EVANS & WATSON,—Gentlemen,—It affords us the highest satisfaction to state to you, that owing to the very protective qualities of two of the Salamander Safes which we purchased of you some few months since, we saved a large portion of our jewelry, and all our books, papers, &c., exposed to the calamitous fire in Ranstead Place, on the morning of the 11th instant.

When we reflect that these Safes were located in the fourth story of the building we occupied, and that they fell subsequently into a heap of burning ruins, where the vast concentration of heat caused the brass plates to melt, we cannot but regard the preservation of their valuable contents as most convincing proof of the great security afforded by your Safes.

We shall take much pleasure in recommending them to men of business as a sure reliance against fire.

This property lies within ½ a mile of the Broad Top Rail Road—has been lately improved and put in good order—has on it two good apple orchards, a good spring at the door—about 100 acres cleared and well fenced—a good part post-and-rail; there is a good double log house and new bank barn upon the premises.

FARREL, HERRING & CO.'S PATENT CHAMPION SAFE.

LATE FIRE IN DUBUQUE, IOWA.

DUBUQUE, Jan. 7, 1859.

GENTS:— I am requested by Mr. T. A. C. Cochrane, of this place, to say to you that on the morning of the 4th instant, about 3 o'clock, his store took fire, and the entire stock of goods were destroyed. The heat became so suddenly intense that none of the goods could possibly be saved; but fortunately his books and papers which were in one of your Champion Safes, were all preserved perfectly. And well they may be called Champion, for during the whole conflagration there was one incessant pouring of flame directly upon the safe which contained them. And still, upon opening it, the inside was found to be scarcely warm, while the outside was most severely scorched.

Yours truly,

N. A. McCLURE.
